While any woman could find herself experiencing an unplanned pregnancy, statistically, there are some characteristics that are more common than others. It should surprise no one that those obtaining most abortions are women who are unmarried and in their 20s. But some of the other factors are less expected. This data come from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) as well as the Guttmacher Institute. According to the two groups: most abortion clients are women in their 20s (56.9%–60%); most abortion clients have had a previous live birth (59%–60%); most abortion clients are unmarried (45.9% – 85.5%); black women account for most abortions committed later in pregnancy—40% (120,121) of abortions between 0-13 weeks of pregnancy and 42% (10,100) at 14 weeks or later; most abortion clients had a low income (75%); most abortion clients had at least a high school education (91%); most abortion clients paid for their abortions out-of-pocket (53%). Black women had the highest abortion percentage (38.4%) rate (23.8 abortions per 1,000 women) and ratio (386 abortions per 1,000 live births), according to the CDC. The CDC’s 2019 data confirm that communities of color, which have a disproportionate number of abortions, are still being targeted for eugenic abortions. Speaking up For Life

“The boundaries He establishes serve not to forbid any of sexuality’s blessings but to gather its goodness into a single setting so that nothing deprives the marriage bed of its rightful delight.” Pastor Michael Salemink, Executive Director of Mission and Ministry, Lutherans For Life

“It’s a terrible thing to see any life that is used and abused instead of being protected and cared for. The value of life should not be based on the benefits it can offer. So we pray to the Lord to move all people to value and appreciate all life as God’s gift.” Rev. Peter Sulzle, St. John Evangelical Lutheran Church, Redwood Falls, Minnesota

“The dad who keeps his eyes focused on Christ, prays for his children, and expresses his unconditional love for his kids, will, in the end, have been a good father and be blessed with adult children who will always be grateful for the dad God gave them.” Abbot Tryphon

“Such commands to ‘practice hospitality;’ ‘to entertain strangers;’ ‘to care for the poor, the widows, the suffering;’ and to ‘remember the least of these’—all of these are invitations to step further into all that the resurrection said and did and says and does now through us.” Jill Carattini

Since 1973: 63,459,781 abortions in America
