

Blessed with Healing

Responding to Human Trafficking

Celebrate all who have escaped trafficking.

Make a dedicated effort to use language that expresses the value of all life.

Lead fundraising events to support human trafficking rescue organizations.

Pray for those involved in trafficking.

Provide education on other kinds of trafficking in addition to sex trafficking, such as being enslaved to work.

Invite those who have been trafficked or who work with a rescue organization to speak at your church.

Know which places teach life skills and connect them with people in need.

Create a flier or brochure to post in bathrooms to make readers aware of human trafficking and where to get help.

Befriend the marginalized to aid in reducing the risk of being a victim of human trafficking.

Volunteer with rescue organizations that address human trafficking, such as Wings of Refuge.

Educate youth, those who are alone, and those who are visiting our country about the signs of trafficking.

Encourage connections to pastoral counseling or diaconal care for those who have been rescued.

For "everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved."
- Romans 10:13

